Hi Dan,

Happy Friday! I finished my review today and sent him back a few edits for the letter. Once he finalizes those edits he wants to keep, it can route and be sent to the Respondent. Target date for sending it out is as soon as it gets through routing next week.

Thanks,

Michele

Hi Michele, Happy Friday afternoon and it is just about time to go!
You might sense that I'm doing a weekly since this is my second email.

Chris, had let me know he drafted a letter with the desired injunctive relief and sent it to you for review. I believe he heard back from the COE and the state forestry that the IR we are proposing is on target.

I'm just checking to see what our next step is and our target date for that step.
Thanks,

Dan
